RECORD CROWD IN SNOW AREA

Ideal Ski Conditions With Road Open Over Summit, Lure For County And Valley Fans

Although official figures are not available at this writing, opinions from several interested sources agree that the number of people engaged in snow sports over the week-end in the area east of Placerville set a record for this time of year.

An increasing interest in the El Dorado County winter sports area, coupled with an ideal day and the fact that U. S. Route 50 has been kept open this year to travelers between Sacramento and Lake Tahoe and points east, are believed to have contributed to attracting a larger number of winter sports fans to the area.

Some, no doubt, learned of the excellent opportunities for skiing and other snow sports which the region affords as a result of the weekly snow condition bulletin sent out by the El Dorado County Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the Placerville Ski Club.

Large parties of El Dorado County skiers spent the day at Echo Lake and nearby Echo Portals while other parties established headquarters at Twin Bridges and at Fred's Place. Among these were several identified as from Stockton and from Sacramento.

County Native Is Called

Mrs. Margaret Roberts Was Founder Of Pioneer Days Program At Georgetown

Mrs. Margaret McGraw Roberts, 74, a native of Kelsey and for the past fifteen years a resident of Oakland, passed away Saturday morning at her home in that city. She was a sister of James McGraw of Placerville.

The funeral services will be at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the Truman Mortuary chapel at her home city and will be followed by cremation. The ashes will be placed at Union cemetery beside the grave of her husband, William Roberts, who passed away twenty-seven years ago.

Mrs. Roberts was a native of Kelsey and spent her girlhood and young womanhood in this county. She was said to have been the founder of the annual program honoring pioneers of the Georgetown district, an observance which later was copied in Placerville honoring the pioneers of this vicinity.

Mrs. Roberts is survived by three sons, Clarence, William and Albert, all of Oakland; and a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Francis, of Georgetown, and by several grandchildren. Other relatives include Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Agnes Rupley and Mrs. Mabel Lawyer, nieces.

Mr. and Mrs. McGraw will leave late this afternoon for Sacramento to join Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lawyer there, and will continue on Tuesday to Oakland.

FIRE AT CALIFORNIA DOOR PLANT ON SATURDAY

But for the prompt action of employees and neighbors of the California Door Company at Diamond Springs Saturday evening, and the timely arrival of the state Division of Forestry trucks and crews from Camino, a serious fire might have resulted at the round house of the Diamond Springs and Caldor railroad.

As it was, company officials reported, damage was "quite severe" but the blaze was confined to the one building and was extinguished before it could gain headway enough to threaten adjoining structures.

William J. McIlroy, general agent for the Canadian Pacific at Los Angeles, and Albert Albertsen, San Francisco travel bureau agent, spent Sunday on a tour of the Mother Lode with Norman H. Robotham, publisher of the Pony Express Courier.

LOSS IN BLAZE AT NOON IS ESTIMATED AT APPROXIMATELY $10,000

Smoke Was Reported Issuing From Ventilators On Main Street Half Hour Before Department Was Called; Proprietor Explained It Was Smoking Grease

The Forum Cafe and Tavern, on Main Street two doors west of the Bank of America building, was badly damaged by a fire of undetermined origin to which the Placerville Volunteer Fire Department was called during the noon hour Monday.

Firemen were able to save the forward part of the building and to prevent the spread of the flames to Wotton's store and the neighboring string of businesses in frame buildings.

Pacific Minerals Company Donates $25 To Troops Out Of Fair Premium

Placerville troops of Boy Scouts will share equally in a $25 gift to them by the Pacific Minerals Company, Ltd., which operates the slate quarry and crushing mill at Chile Bar.

A check for this amount, bearing the notation on the voucher "Donation and best wishes for a Successful and Prosperous New Year," was tendered the Scouts recently on behalf of Charles Renwick, Jr., manager of the company, by Bobby Sinclair.

Bobby, a Boy Scout, is the son of R. A. Sinclair, manager of the Chile Bar plant of the company.

With the check, Mr. Renwick sent the following letter to Mr. Sinclair:

"Dear Bob:

"I enclose a check in the amount of $25, payable to the Placerville Boy Scout troop.

"As we were so fortunate in having received some of the prize money from the recent El Dorado County Fair, we enjoy having this worthy organization share in our good fortune.

"I will greatly appreciate your turning this check over to the proper parties."

Boy Scout officials said that since there are two Boy Scout troops, and since Mr. Renwick intended the gift to be for the Boy Scouts of Placerville, the check will be equally divided between the troops.

GOLD ANNIVERSARY AT COLOMA PASSES QUIETLY

COLOMA—Monday was such a day as it might have been ninety years ago when James W. Marshall discovered gold in the race of Sutter's mill.

A bright clear day with air made fresh by breezes wafted from the snow-covered Sierra summit made the day an ideal one for any celebration which might have been planned, but there was no public observance of the historic occasion.

That will wait until next Saturday night when Coloma presents its annual Gold Discovery Dance at the Community Hall.

Charles W. Robinson Passes At Saratoga

Charles W. Robinson, formerly of Camino, passed away on Saturday at the I. O. O. F. home at Saratoga. Mr. Robinson was a native of Ontario, Canada, aged 69 years.

The funeral services will be at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the James R. Garlick chapel, 20th and P Streets, Sacramento. Burial will be at Orr Fellows lawn.

Mr. Robinson was the husband of Mrs. Marietta Robinson and the father of Valentine G. Robinson, of Camino; Orlo P. Robinson, of Stockton; Mrs. J. A. Suggs and Mrs. A. H. Koletzke, of Sacramento; and Mrs. Waatle Knapp, of Carmichael.

Sacramento Skiers Form Club For Sport

According to word received by A. N. Weber, president of the state ski association, Sacramento winter sports fans have organized a ski club and have elected Jess Hession, Jr., as president.

Mr. Weber was at Sacramento on Wednesday night of last week to assist those active in the movement with the organization plans.

Loss In Blaze At Noon Is Estimated At Approximately $10,000

Smoke Was Reported Issuing From Ventilators On Main Street Half Hour Before Department Was Called; Proprietor Explained It Was Smoking Grease

The Forum Cafe and Tavern, on Main Street two doors west of the Bank of America building, was badly damaged by a fire of undetermined origin to which the Placerville Volunteer Fire Department was called during the noon hour Monday.

Firemen were able to save the forward part of the building and to prevent the spread of the flames to Wotton's store and the neighboring string of businesses in frame buildings.

Loss to L. T. Butts and Sons, owners of the building, was hastily estimated by L. T. Butts, Jr., at about $10,000.

Origin of the blaze was not known.

L. T. Butts, Sr., said he had no idea of how the blaze started. L. T. Butts, Sr., said the fire started at the rear of the building and indicated his belief that it probably originated because of defective wiring.

According to Max Baer, who operates a clothing store almost directly opposite the scene of the fire, he was standing in front of his place of business on the sidewalk at about 11:45 or 11:50 o'clock when passersby joined with him in noticing smoke pouring from a ventilator on the front of the restaurant building.

Mr. Baer said he went across the street and called the management's attention to the smoke and was informed that the smoke was from some grease in the kitchen and that there was no cause for alarm as the smoke had merely penetrated above the ceiling of the main floor and was drifting out.

Norman H. Robotham, publisher of The Pony Express Courier, was one of the passersby. Mr. Robotham said that he completed an errand in the business district and returned to the Ivy Motel and was eating his lunch when the fire alarm sounded. Out of curiosity, he came to the business district and recalled the earlier circumstance when he saw that the fire was at the Forum Cafe.

Jack McDonald, employee at the Ainsworth barber shop, said he had left his work about twelve o'clock and a few minutes later walked down the street past the restaurant and noted the smoke issuing from the ventilator.

Birthday Ball Voted Success

Appreciation For Support Of Fifth Annual Event Expressed By Frank Ward, Chairman

"It was a great success. If we had had any more people in attendance, I don't know what we would have done with them. We netted about $110."

This was the report made Monday morning by Frank Ward, chairman, on the fifth annual "Birthday Ball for the President" in El Dorado County, held last night at the I. O. O. F. hall.

"As chairman of the event, I wish to thank all of those who contributed to the success of the occasion," Mr. Ward said. "I am especially grateful for the support given me as chairman by the committee, and we, as the committee, wish to thank all who contributed in any way to this most generous response to a worthy cause."

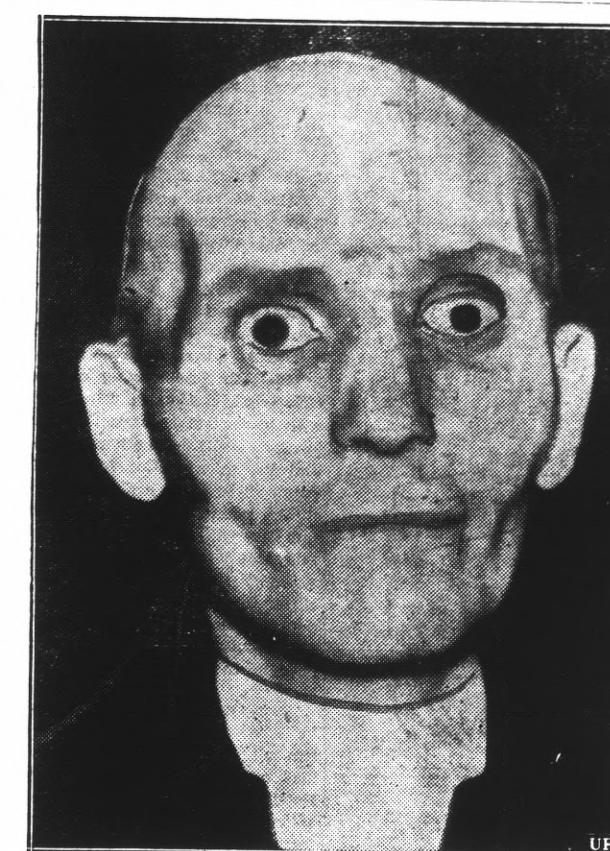

"In this connection, I would like to call attention to the annual dance at Coloma marking the anniversary of the discovery of gold by James W. Marshall. We had the co-operation of the people of Coloma in scheduling our Birthday Ball, and they very graciously scheduled the Gold Discovery Dance for January 29th, so as not to conflict with our plans. I hope their dance is equally successful."

Eight Lions Attend Fresno Meeting

District Governor Thomas Maul and seven other members of Placerville Den of Lions spent Friday and Saturday at winter meeting of Lions.

In addition to the district governor, those who went from Placerville are Lion President Bill Hays; Lion Secretary Arthur Mart, and Lions Wallace M. Ripley, Bert Pierroz, Jack Rhodes, B. E. Larson and John H. Palmer.

22-DAY FAST BROKEN—Rev. Israel H. Noe, Episcopal minister of Memphis, Tenn., whose fast, begun on January 2nd, was broken today when he was given sedatives at a Memphis hospital, and forcibly fed under the direction of physicians. The Rev. Noe collapsed and became unconscious last night. He believed he had found a way to live forever on spiritual sustenance, without food or water.

WELTZ LEARNS FATE FEB. 2

Venire Of Forty Withdrawn As Defendant Admits Guilt, Applied For Probation

Preparations for the trial of Walter Weltz, indicted by the county Grand Jury on two counts on a charge involving an infamous crime against nature, were halted Monday morning when Weltz pleaded guilty in Superior Court before Judge George H. Thompson.

The defendant exercised his right to apply for probation and the court set Wednesday, February 2, at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon as the time for receiving the report of Probation Officer Charles W. Ball, and for passing sentence.

The trial of Weltz had been scheduled to start on February 1st and a venire of forty had been drawn and summoned to appear on that date for service. The venire is now being notified it will be unnecessary for them to appear.

Weltz pleaded guilty to the second count of the indictment which charged an attempt to commit an infamous crime against nature.

The first count of the indictment charged the commission of the crime.

In consenting to the change of pleading, District Attorney Henry S. Lyon declared that there is some question in his mind whether a conviction on the first count, charging actual commission of the act, might be sustained, in view of the fact that corroborative evidence might be lacking and the state's case as respects this count of the indictment rests almost entirely upon the testimony of a juvenile.

"Not that I question this evidence for a minute," Mr. Lyon said, "but the lack of corroboration would make it a doubtful case on appeal. It is difficult, almost impossible, to obtain corroborative evidence in such cases."

The county prosecutor announced, following the defendant's application for probation, that while it is the defendant's right to apply for probation, the District Attorney is opposed to probation under any consideration in a case of this type and will oppose the application to the utmost of his ability.

The defendant was represented by Attorney C. W. Pardon.

Ed. Christian was up from Berkeley for the week-end and joined the hundreds in the winter sports area on Sunday.

FETE ON COMPLETION OF ROAD IS URGED

Celebration For Opening Of Re-Alinement West Of City Suggested To County C. of C.

As a result of interest shown by citizens generally in the progress of work on the new highway re-alignment on U. S. Route 50 west of Placerville, and in response to their suggestions, the El Dorado County Chamber of Commerce at its next meeting will consider the matter of an appropriate celebration marking the opening of the new highway alignment and the new Webber Creek bridge.

Secretary Wallace M. Ripley said on Monday morning that the matter has been brought to his attention by several residents of the county and that he will lay the proposition before the membership of the chamber of commerce at their next meeting.

"It has been pointed out that the improvement is one of great importance, not only to a large section of the county but as well to the hundreds of thousands of motorists from outside the county who come to visit us each year to play, to fish and to hunt," Mr. Ripley said.

"In this connection," the secretary added, "the Chamber of Commerce is a county-wide organization responsive to the will of its membership and to the will of the people of all parts of the county and I am sure the Chamber of Commerce is grateful and appreciates any suggestions of this nature which are submitted to its members or its officers."

RAINBOW, DE MOLAY SEAT NEW OFFICERS ON SATURDAY

Officers of Placerville Assembly, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, headed by Miss Barbara Smith as Worthy Advisor, and of El Dorado Chapter, Order of De Molay, headed by Arthur Hackwood as Master Councilor, were installed in joint exercises at the Masonic Hall on Saturday evening.

Installing officers were brother and sister, Miss Marilyn Ripley, outgoing Worthy Advisor, and Jack Ripley, outgoing Councilor.

A large number of parents of members and other friends of the members joined in attending the installation meeting.

A suit brought by Milton and Letitia Miller against W. I. Dean was on file Monday in Superior Court, claiming $125 as owing on a promissory note and $225 as rent and asking judgment for $350.

TENTATIVE FAIR DATES MADE

Exposition Directors Meet Tuesday; New Board May Be Designated On Wednesday

El Dorado County's Fair for 1938 is tentatively planned for the week-end of October 14, 15 and 16.

The board of directors of the county fair association will meet Tuesday night at the War Veterans' Memorial Building to hear the reports of two of its members who last week attended the annual meeting of Western Fair Associations, at San Francisco, at which the dates for the El Dorado County Fair and for other fairs in California this year were tentatively set.

A. N. Weber, of the fair directorate, attended the meeting of the association on Thursday with C. S. Collins and the latter remained through the Friday and Saturday meetings.

Reports of Mr. Weber and Mr. Collins will be received by the board following which, it is expected, some action will be taken toward confirming the suggested dates. Probability of the dates as suggested being confirmed is seen in view of the fact that the two directors had been requested to suggest to the Western Fair Association that dates during the first two weeks of October would be most preferred by the El Dorado County Fair management.

It is learned that the executive committee of El Dorado Post No. 119, American Legion, has been called to meet on Wednesday evening for the purpose of appointing a board of directors for the 1938 fair.

This is a regular proceeding since the board for the 1937 fair was appointed for that year only. Whether the existing board may be re-appointed, with the naming of a member to fill the place of M. E. Raber, resigned, or whether an entirely new directorate may be named was not known.

Italian Planes Flying To "Rio"

Three Bombing Ships Complete 2,700 Mile Leg Of Hop At 240 Miles An Hour

DAKAR, Senegal, (UPI)—Three Italian bombing planes, including one piloted by Bruno Mussolini, landed here at 5:10 p.m. today, averaging nearly 240 miles an hour on their flight from Rome to Rio De Janeiro.

The three planes, Savoia 79 model bombers, left Guidonia airport on the outskirts of Rome at 7:25 a.m. The planes are identical with Italian-made planes which bombed Barcelona and other Spanish coastal cities last fall in behalf of the Spanish nationalists.

Purpose of the flight, aside from testing the ability of the planes, is to enable Italian aviators to study the course across the South Atlantic with the intention of establishing a regular line between Italy and South America.

The flight will be made in three laps covering approximately 6,000 miles. The first lap, from Rome to Dakar, West Africa, is the most difficult. The distance is about 2,700 miles of which 2,000 is over the Sahara Desert. The second lap is from Dakar to Natal, Brazil, and the third from Natal to Rio De Janeiro.

Up and Down Broadway

By JACK GAVER

United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, (UPI)—The manner in chairs in rows upstage before the cyclorama sit the members of the cast, which extremely unorthodox productions have caught the fancy of the critics and the show-going public and likely will remain the high spot of the current theatrical season. The Mercury Theater has grabbed the lion's share of attention with a streamlined production of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" and a revival of Dekker's 300-year-old "Shoemaker's Holiday"—both unusual bids for financial success—and the International Ladies Garment Workers Union grabbed a share of the spotlight by producing, with a cast of its own members, an odd musical revue, "Pins and Needles."

Now the Mercury makes another bid with "The Cradle Will Rock," the most unorthodox piece of theatrical business in years. Anyone who gets a kick out of something "different" in the theater will find it interesting, whether or not he agrees with the unionist special pleading which is its theme. "A play in music" is the way the program describes this production and I suppose that is as good at any. There is no scenery, as in "Julius Caesar," but, unlike that dynamic modern-dress revival, it does not depend on clever lighting tricks to get over the sense of scenes.

Marc Blitzstein, the author and composer, sits at an upright piano in the center of a well-lighted stage. On strikers. The committeemen are highly indignant at being mistakenly arrested by a too literal cop and demand that Mister Mister, the steel tycoon who runs the whole town, be sent for immediately to get them out.

In ensuing scenes, which Blitzstein merely announces as being such-and-such, these committeemen reveal how they have sold themselves down the river to the steelmaster and are doing his dirty work for him. Mister Mister, Mistress Mister, Junior Mister and Sister Mister, come down from their chairs to help with the acting as they are needed.

All this builds to a climax in which Larry Foreman, organizer trying to weld the various steelworker units together for concerted strike action, takes the center of the spotlight in night court to explain his side of the question and sing the title song, "The Cradle Will Rock."

There is one pedestrian touch—all members of the cast burst forth with the same theme song at the final curtain just as in the most orthodox Shubert operetta.

This, of course, is a stunt and an interesting one. No one will pretend that it is great drama or great music, projected with fine singing and acting. Blitzstein is a versatile young man, one with a decided theatrical future, and insofar as this production presents him and his talents thus forcibly to the public, it is to be acclaimed. It is not the beginning of the theatrical millennium, however, nor is it even a brilliant presentation of the capital-labor struggle. It is a vivid cartoon and must suffer as such, no matter how well done, because many of the characters are so overdrawn that you cannot believe in them.

"Stop-Over" by Matt and Sam Taylor is a minor item with some excellent players which doesn't add up to much. It is a stepchild of the "Grand Hotel" technique in which a lot of ill-assorted characters are tossed together for a few hours, but inasmuch as the end finds them right where they started from I can't imagine just what the authors thought they were trying to get across when they conceived this charade.

U. S. BRITAIN WITHDREW
MILITARY FORCES
AT SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, (UPI)—United States authorities planned to reduce military forces in the Shanghai area by one-half within a month, it was reported today.

The auxiliary transport Chaumont will leave about the middle of February with the U. S. marines sixth regiment, according to the report, leaving about 1,200 marines of the fourth regiment.

Great Britain also is planning to reduce its Shanghai forces, it was understood. All troops here probably will be transferred elsewhere next month after the arrival of between 1200 and 1500 replacements, it was said.

"Dixie" Howell May Be Arizona Teacher Coach

TEMPE, Ariz. (IP)—Dixie Howell, who helped Alabama crush Stanford in the Pasadena Rose Bowl three years ago, probably will become football coach at Tempe this year, it appeared today.

Howell, after inspecting the campus here and conferring with the college's athletic officials, said he "would like to take a crack at" the coaching job. No definite proposition was offered Howell, but college officials said they saw in him "the solution of our coaching problem."

Dillinger Home From Hospital Sunday

H. E. Dillinger, who had been a patient at Placerville Sanitorium for more than two months, was removed to his residence on Sunday and is now convalescing from his recent serious illness.

Mr. Dillinger suffered a streptococcus infection in his arm and was admitted to Placerville Sanitorium for treatment on November 15.

There had been some hope that he might be able to leave the hospital by Christmas time but an

By JANE VOILES

If you are interested in Extension Courses you will have heard of Dick Carlson and his personal development course. Thousands of students of all ages have been helped by his practical guidance. Mr. Carlson has just returned to California from Washington, D. C. where for the past two years he has served as Director of Personnel for the Farm Credit Administration, an organization of more than 11,000 employees.

Long before the avalanche of self help books were written Dick Carlson was at work on his book, recently published by Harpers "How to Develop Personal Power." Twenty years ago when he was a youngster his job was to go to technical training classes and observe why some students achieved a higher rate of speed than others. In a short time he discovered that the students in front had a definite objective. There was a plan or a job pulling them ahead. It was then that Mr. Carlson became interested in what he calls—the value of life planning.

"At least 95 per cent of the people do not use their potentialities," he insists. There is plenty of truth in that because most of us just can't be bothered. Perhaps we are ashamed to appear serious, or we are too busy having a good time or too lazy to creep out of our little rut.

Mr. Carlson began the experiments that have resulted in his book when he was director of guidance in evening classes in Southern California. Before he evolved the present form, from seven to eight thousand questionnaires were filled out by students. These were based on the three fundamental questions:

"What is my aim in life?
"What are the obstacles in my way?
"How can I overcome them?"

The last revision of his book has been made in the light of his personnel work in Washington. While he was there, with the aid of his assistants, he checked through everything in the Library of Congress bearing upon personality development. In his book he includes the titles of the best works they found.

"Two factors play a major part in our lives," Mr. Carlson declares, "To get—which includes security, adventure, recognition and to give—which implies some form of service. The happy individual balances these two—he gives as much as he gets."

The statistics that Mr. Carlson has gathered to prove his points are startling, to say the least. One person out of one hundred very rarely masters anything. About 12 out of 100 become proficient. Take your average man between the ages of 65 and 75—one is wealthy, 4 are comfortable, five are on the border line, 36 are dead and 54 are dead broke.

"The factors that make for success in life," Mr. Carlson asserts, "are not age, not education, not experience, though each one of these helps. The main factors are those intangible ones that we call personal qualities."

A recent survey made by the Carnegie Foundation on this very problem brought to light the fact that technical training counts for 15 per cent and personal qualities count for 85 per cent in the achievement of success.

Mr. Carlson defines personality as "character expressed" or "reserved force expressed." Or one might call it "a radiation of the inner life" or "one's habitual pattern of behavior."

Today when service rating of employees has become an important part of the personnel department of large business concerns, we realize the definite part personality plays in promotion and advancement. In some concerns the employees never see their rating sheets. In others, the head of the department goes over the rating with the employee and makes the right suggestions. The latter is true of the Navy where each man is rated according to his intelligence, judgment, initiative, attention to duty, etc. A large link concern with offices all over the world rates its employees on appearance, aptitude, poise, performance, interest in people, acceptance of responsibility, etc.

Reading books and listening to lectures however, get you nowhere unless you are made to think and thought, in turn, makes you act. For personality in order to count must be reduced to a habit. Which habits help you and which habits hinder you.

The first step in developing personal power is to visualize the kind of person you want to become, the second is to discover your weaknesses and the third step is to organize a plan in which you can develop positive habits to offset these.

set the bad ones. The pattern of life you want to follow will determine the traits you want to develop.

A survey that was made among 1000 people listed as many as 782 traits that make a pleasing personality. The dominant was cheerfulness. Not very prominent, but important. Then followed friendliness, loyalty, neatness, tact, unselfishness, sense of humor, thoughtfulness, enthusiasm, poise, etc. The quality heading the unattractive traits was selfishness followed by untidiness and bragging.

How can one offset a bad trait by a good one? Mr. Carlson finds the best plan to be the one used by Benjamin Franklin. Franklin set up twelve positive traits for himself—temperance, silence, order, humility, etc. For a week he watched one trait, taking an inventory at the end of each day. Had he had too much to drink? Had he eaten too heartily? The next week he checked up on silence, had he talked too much, had he talked at the wrong time? Mr. Franklin attributed the source of his power and achievements to this simple method. "He who conquers himself."

Mr. Carlson puts it all in a nutshell

"Your life is made up of the things you DO, of the things you KNOW, of the things you SEE, of what you ARE in character and personality, of what you EARN and of what you MASTER. Chart the progress you want to make in these things and you will be charting your future."

Those who have studied with Mr. Carlson claim that his guidance has been of real value because he is sincere in his desire to help—he gives freely of himself. It is this quality that makes "How to Develop Personal Power" a living book and not a set of dead maxims.
